PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Software Engineer — UniNow GmbH

02/2026 – present · Magdeburg, Germany

Mobile and web platform used by German universities and their students.

- Built a social feed system end to end — Go backend services and a Svelte 5 admin dashboard enabling university staff to create and manage feeds and posts.
- Implemented gRPC and GraphQL APIs for communication between feed services and client applications.
- Worked within an event-driven microservices environment on Kubernetes, using NATS for asynchronous messaging between services.
- Developed bulk user role provisioning from CSV imports, replacing manual assignment for administrators.
- Reviewed teammates' pull requests as part of the team's code review process.

Backend Developer — Limango GmbH

05/2025 – 08/2025 · Hannover, Germany

E-commerce platform operating across the DACH, Polish and Dutch markets.

- Developed and maintained post-purchase and order management services supporting customer service operations across four markets.
- Worked across Go and PHP microservices in an event-driven architecture spanning a large, distributed set of repositories and legacy PHP versions.
- Delivered and deployed changes through GitLab CI/CD pipelines.

Backend / Fullstack Developer — ayeT-Studios GmbH

08/2018 – 05/2025 · Hannover, Germany

High-traffic ad-tech marketing and rewarded-advertising platform.

- Achieved a 70% reduction in report generation time through advanced query optimization and refactoring of reporting pipelines.
- Reduced infrastructure costs by optimizing MySQL and DynamoDB query patterns across high-traffic services.
- Developed and maintained backend systems in PHP (CakePHP), ensuring high availability for platforms under continuous production load.
- Engineered reporting tools used by leadership and external clients to support data-driven marketing decisions.
- Built responsive frontend interfaces with JavaScript and Bootstrap to support backend functionality.
